CRIES OF MURDER -About midnight lest night the residents of the western portion of the city were avokeced by the cries of "morder" and "police" from a weman. These cries were continued at intervals as the woman wended her way down the a street and caused some excitement. It seems that the woman, having waited at home for a long time for her husband who failed to purio an appearance, went out in search or him. She found him in the house of snother wamen under rather suspicious circum-tences, where the scene incident to inconstant bushand then started for their home, quarreling as they walked along, and on their way, it is said, the man Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, undertook to punish his wife when the latter gave utterance to the screems that awaand the residents of the neighborhood. Warrante have been sworn out against the offending parties, and the matter will be investigated before the Mayor.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 .- The opening of the stock market this morning was made upon a moderate volume of business, although this was confined to a comparatively few stocks. First prices were all lower, the strength at the close last evening having entirely disappeared, and the losses derly, were fixed $2.50 each and in default generally ranged from 14 to 14 per cent. The active stocks generally scored further material declines from the opening figures, making the average less among them from last night upwards of 1 per cent. Later in the hour there was a better tone and slight recoveries were made, but at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and barely steady at close to the lowest prices reached.

THE WEATHER IS WARM. We are having some pretty hot weather-hotte than we had it last summer; but there is one consolation in the fact that its discomfits may be materially lessened by observing the rules of health, not only in what we eat, but what we wear. In selecting articles of wearing apparel one should be governed not only by texture, but by beauty. These two points considered, the last, but by no means the lesst to consider, is the cost. In purchasing our stock we have paid strict attention to these three essensials—TEXTURE, BEAUTY and PRICE.
